Crown Farm Implement Company Plans Moving Sales Offices Here

Chicago Corporation Seeks Warehouse; Sales Office in Antioch

Plans of the Crown Farm Implement company, 333 N. Michigan Blvd., to establish a sales office in Antioch were revealed this week by E. J. Novak, president of the corporation. Novak said that the office would be moved here as soon as proper quarters could be obtained. The main reason for the move is to keep in closer contact with the manufacturing plant which is located in Trevor, Wis.

The company also is seeking housing for stocks of parts and completed machines in order to clear the plant of this space using item. Novak hopes to secure 5000 or more feet of floor space in or near Antioch for this purpose. He said that the company would probably build eventually but that shortages of manpower and building materials would make other arrangements necessary for the immediate future.

The Crown Farm Implement corporation is engaged in the manufacture and sale of newly developed agricultural machinery. The items now being manufactured include a "push-button" automatic dairy barn cleaner and a device for throwing ensilage down from the top of a silo without the necessity of someone climbing up into the silo. Both these machines were conceived by C. N. Cordis, owner of Crown Stock Farms, Silver Lake, Wis., and have been brought to a high degree of perfection by engineers at the Trevor plant.

Capacity of the plant at present is fifteen machines weekly, but plans for an expansion program will raise production to about twenty-five per week in the near future.

Ernie J. Beck, formerly chief tool engineer at Geo. Gorton Machine company, Racine, and associated with Karpen Bros., in the research and development division for more than nineteen years, is superintendent at the plant in Trevor. He came to the Crown corporation directly from the Army procurement division where he was in charge of gauge procurement. He also served for a time as chief security guard at the Holm Mfg. company, Kenosha.

SEEK VETS FOR JOBS AT DOWNEY

There's good news today for veterans.

Former servicemen and women applicants have top priority for the many civil service jobs now open at the Veterans Administration hospital in nearby Downey.

Army or Navy service offers a valuable wedge to enter federal employment. Congress has granted honorably discharged personnel certain preference points in appointment.

Most discharges in applying for Civil Service positions receive a preference of 5 points. However, those awarded compensation for a service-connected disability get 10 points.

Non-veterans too are needed at the Downey hospital. Preferences for veterans by no means shut out jobs to otherwise qualified men and women applicants.

Positions now open include clerk-typist ($1704 per year); hospital attendants ($1572), and mess attendants ($1440). The above salaries are for a basic 40-hour week. Overtime adds several hundreds dollars to each figure.

Farmer's Day At Sheahan Implement Co. Well Attended

The resumption of the custom of having an annual party for their customers was an outstanding success at the Sheahan Brothers Implement company store Saturday afternoon and evening. More than 85 persons attended the afternoon session and about 135 in the evening.

Joe Sheahan said that he was well pleased by the large turnout and that everyone seemed to have a very enjoyable time. Movies concerning new developments in agricultural machinery and giving farmers some idea of what to expect in the future were shown as well as pictures for entertainment. Vaudeville acts were presented and refreshments were served.

Firemen's Dance Is Well Attended

The Antioch Fire department's dance, held last Saturday evening in Sheahan Brothers Implement Store, was a complete success, according to George Garland, treasurer of the department.

A near-capacity crowd attended the affair, which featured games and other entertainments, as well as dancing to the music of Bessie Barnes' orchestra.

It is believed that the department will net slightly over $400 from the dance. Garland explained that although the department expenses are now paid from village funds, the department also sometimes purchases needed equipment. He said that new boots and raincoats had been bought from department funds a few months ago and that similar purchases would be made in the future.

Methodist Church To Hear Kistler Sunday, Feb. 17

Army Chaplain to Tell His Experiences as War Prisoner

Ernest D. Kistler, Army chaplain, will speak at church services next Sunday morning, Feb. 17. Kistler has had a wide and varied experience in prisoner of war camps throughout Europe and is reported to be an interesting and entertaining speaker.

Part of a descriptive sheet containing information concerning his qualifications as a speaker follows:

"Chaplain Kistler has just returned from three years of service with the United States Army, the last year and a half being in the European theatre of operations. In the last four months while District Chaplain he traveled more than 15,000 miles in a jeep.

"He served twelve different assignments and in as many different types of units of the army services and has been called upon to do almost everything from leading group singing to that of giving the last rites to those about to be hung on the gallows; and from administering the Holy Communion to that of running a kindergarten in a Prisoner of War enclosure. He has helped to set up and maintain religious services in our Prisoner of War enclosures throughout Normandy, France, and dealt with more prisoners of war and displaced personnel than any other American chaplain.

"Chaplain Kistler will have on display a large collection of articles made by the prisoners in these war enclosures. You will be interested in some special pieces made by a wood carver from the famous village of Oberammergau.

"His address is interspersed with subtle humor so that you will catch a lighter thrill of army life as he tells the stories of "The Colored Chaplain and the Dehydrated Soldier," "The Colonel and the Pheasant," or you will be carried to tears when he relates the story of "The Captain and the Empty Sleeve" and "Sixteen Different Ways to Kill a Man." Would you believe it could happen in a Prisoner of War enclosure—a prisoner just one day old without a country? All this is portrayed with simplicity and vividness so that in listening you will feel that you are in the midst of it all as you hear the Chaplain give his address, "Seed in My Enemy's Garden."

Legion Cagers Beat Richmond

The Antioch Legion basketball team took a team from Richmond last night to the tune of 49 to 38. Failure of the highly-touted Waukegan team to show was thought to be caused by the weather. Two games had been scheduled, however, and a good show was put on for the crowd assembled at the Antioch township high school gym.

Next week's opponents will be Libertyville and Grayslake. The games will be played Wednesday night at the local gym.

Farm Training for "G. I.'s" Under New Veteran's Bd. Plan

Under the amended G. I. Bill, veterans may now be trained "on-the-job" as farm operators and receive a subsistence allowance for themselves and their dependents, in addition to farm wages.

Veterans' service officer, Arthur F. Reutlinger with offices at the American Legion Home, 501 W. Washington St., Waukegan, Ill., has the particulars, having just returned from a conference of farm advisors, agriculture teachers and other agencies, where this new farm management program was explained.

Illinois is one of the first states in the nation to institute the apprentice and on-the-job training programs in the farming industry. The objective is to make successful farm operators of those who participate, and is designed to prevent students from developing into mere "farm laborers."

Dewar was fined $15 Jan. 8, for an alleged attempt to smoke Clements out of the house by stuffing inner tubes down the chimney.

Helping Antioch Organizations To Help Returning Veterans

Commenting on the great interest shown in the new sound movie "Heaven with a Fence Around It," presented at the Sinclair Farm meeting Feb. 12, Joe Horton, Sinclair Agent at Antioch, said:

"Heaven with a Fence Around It" was produced by the Sinclair Refining Company to help solve one of the greatest problems of our times—the way to help returning veterans successfully re-establish themselves in civilian life. And, judging from audience reactions, the picture is quite successful.

"As a result," he continued, "many civic clubs, veterans' organizations, churches, schools, lodges and so on throughout the country are requesting the use of this film for local showings."

"And Sinclair is more than willing to cooperate with all organizations wishing to present it because the picture can do a lot of good for our returning boys and girls. It's timely. It's packed full of romance and human interest. It's educational. And it is of interest to every civilian, every service man and every discharged veteran."

"Those wishing to show 'Heaven with a Fence Around It' are welcome to call me, Joe Horton at Antioch, Ill., for details on obtaining the film. The telephone number is Antioch 14. There is no charge for use of the movie except the expense of returning the film to us."

Reeves New Lighting System Now Complete

Modern Fixtures Provide Maximum Light—No Glare

A minimum of 50 foot-candles of light is provided by the new illumination system just completed at Reeves Walgreen Agency drug store, Main street, Antioch. The new system is composed of 126 eight foot tubes of the new Zeon Cold cathode variety. The lights are installed in modernistic fixtures near the ceiling of the building and extend the full length of the store. Two bands of five tubes have been installed.

A total of 5800 watts and a voltage of 105,000 is consumed in the operation of the lighting system.

A recent survey by the Electrical Manufacturers association shows that drug stores are the largest users of this type of lighting and that more than five percent of the nation's 58,000 drug stores have installed fluorescent lighting. An additional 64 percent use fluorescent lighting in combination with the older incandescent fixtures.

In addition to the new lighting system, mirrors have been installed on walls of the store as well as the supporting columns. George Borovicka, owner and manager, said that the improvements inside the store were part of the original plans for the building, but had been long delayed due to the necessary equipment being unavailable during war time. He also said that no expense or effort would be spared in an attempt to make the store one of the most modern and best appointed in the country.

Nelson's Fountain-Grill To Be Opened Tues., March 5th

Antioch's newest business place, Nelson's Fountain-Grill, will be opened for business on March 5, according to plans of Robert S. Nelson, the owner.

Nelson, lately returned to civilian life by the U. S. Army Air forces, with which he served during the war, has encountered much difficulty in obtaining new equipment for the place. However, deliveries for the new equipment are scheduled for the next few weeks and all will be in readiness for the opening on March 5. He acquired the "Pantry" restaurant on January 1, and since that time repairs and redecoration have been carried out.

Of interest is the fact that Mrs. Nelson, the former Mary Jamieson of Newbourne, England, is expected to arrive in time for the opening. She arrived from England on the next trip made by the Queen Mary, in time for the opening. Nelson and the English girl were married in England Sept. 1, 1945, and Nelson was shipped to the United States immediately after the wedding. They plan to make their new home in Antioch.

Sandwiches, light lunches and all fountain dishes will be served at the Grill.

Secretary of State Says Illinois Is Due for Business Boom

Illinois is headed for the biggest business boom in history if new corporations are a true indication of business trends.

Breaking all existing records, the corporation department last month chartered a total of 1,016 new enterprises, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett announced today in his monthly report.

He said that all through 1945 sharp monthly increases in business registrations were recorded.

The 1,016 new charters granted in January, more than trebled the 304 issued in January of 1945, the report indicates. A total of 829 domestic corporations was registered, compared to 187 in January of last year. Fifty-nine foreign corporations were registered, an increase of 20 over January 1945. Not-for-Profit registrations totalled 128, 50 more than January a year ago.

Barrett said revenue accruing from the charters totalled $90,446.24.

Door Knobs—And The OPA

Everybody's talking about new houses—almost everybody's hollering because not many are being built. But houses don't begin with the carpenter. They begin back in the sawmills, in the wire and nail and bathtub and door knob factories.

Here's the sort of thing many of them are up against. Multiply it by scores of companies, little and big, and one of the reasons will be plain why tens of thousands who want new houses can't get them.

The Run-Around

A Los Angeles factory wanted to make door knobs and locks. It tried for nearly five months to get a figure out of OPA price fixers that would let it go ahead. And then all it got was "No."

Here's the time card. It tells the story.

May 20, 1945: Asked local OPA what to do about prices; May 21: Visited local OPA, got forms and instructions; June 12: Mailed forms and exhibits to Washington; July 9: Asked local OPA if there had been action.

July 11: Washington OPA wired: "Unable to determine jurisdiction;" July 31: Washington OPA asked for photos; August 21: Photos and samples sent to Washington; Sept. 3: Wired Washington OPA: "Production stopped, workers laid off."

Sept. 7: Washington OPA wired: "Expect decision next week;" Sept. 13: Washington OPA phoned: "What is kirksite? Send samples;" Sept. 15: Sent samples to Washington OPA; Sept. 20: Wired Washington OPA:

"Can we do anything to expedite?"

Sept. 28: Local OPA advised: "Keep pressing Washington;" Oct. 1: Local OPA asked: "Has Washington acted?" Wired Washington; Oct. 3: Local OPA announced Washington OPA had reached decision—a price exactly covering cost of materials and plating, about half competitors' price; Oct. 12: Washington OPA denied appeal for relief.

Note: Door knobs not being made.

Tomato Experiment Fails

Tomato plants, as every tomato grower knows, are easy prey for a little worm called the nematode, which attacks roots and produces root-knot disease. The Jimson weed, on the other hand, which grows wild, smells bad, and manufactures poisons, sends the nematodes scurrying away holding their noses, reports Pathfinder Magazine.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, which also grows wild occasionally had an inspiration: Graft a tomato plant on a Jimson weed root, grow tomatoes which would be nematode-proof. They tried it. The tomatoes have now grown up strong and healthy; filled with Jimson weed poison, no worm will go near them.

There's only one thing wrong with these tomatoes: They're poisonous to human beings. "Even rabbits that stole tomatoes in the experimental plots," USDA admitted last week, "got groggy and kept running into things."

He Worked For Truman

There's an elevator operator in downtown Washington building who "reveals" frequently and not without pride that he once worked for President Truman—back in the old days when Truman was running a haberdashery in Kansas City, Mo., says Pathfinder Magazine.

The other day he was guiding his elevator with one hand, with the other holding a newspaper which said in big, black headlines: "Truman Grants Steelworkers 18½¢ More an Hour."

"Tch, tch," he said, shaking his head sadly, "and to think Harry only paid me twelve bucks a week!"

who are having a refresher course in conservation. They will also get information on latest methods of protection of wild game, fowl and fish, prevention of soil erosion and the protection of trees and other national resources of the State.

Mrs. James Connell, who is suffering from rheumatic fever at her home at Sand Lake, is showing improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell and Mrs. Harriet Mitchell of Chicago and Mrs. Florence Kerr, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. Mitchell for a few weeks came out Saturday to visit the Weber family, and Mrs. Kerr remained here with her other daughter, Mrs. Weber.

The Royal Neighbor Officers club held a public card party Wednesday afternoon this week with Mrs. Marie Hamlin at her home, and Mrs. Cella Paske was co-hostess.

A wedding of interest to many people here took place last Wednesday, Feb. 6, when Miss Elsie Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Swanson, daughter of Little Rock, Ark., to meet her fiancé, Benarr MacLadden and they were married that evening in the Presbyterian church there. They were attended by Dick and Helen Manze of Shreveport, La. The bride wore a grey suit with brown accessories, and had white orchids as a corsage. The groom is a salesman for the Anso Film Co., of Dallas, Texas, but after a honeymoon spent at a lodge in the Ozarks, they will make their home in New Orleans.

The P. T. A. will hold a meeting Monday evening, Feb. 18, at the school house and Charles Mason, prominent Waukegan attorney will give a talk on Lincoln and also show pictures. Mr. Mason is well qualified for this program. Mrs. Pearsall's room will present a patriotic flag drill.

Dr. Madden, Antioch dentist, will be at the school on Friday, Feb. 22, for dental checkup of the children.

Fashion Frock of the Week

BRIGHT STRIPES

Stripes, clean-cut and uncluttered, give that American beauty look. Horizontal stripes accentuate top-heavy bulkiness, so new and smart this season. And vertical stripes are as slimming as a 7-day diet!

Broad shoulders take wings to form the cap sleeves, which are slashed deep at the armholes. That's the season's secret for style and comfort! And this Fashion Frock of the Week boasts another secret — for happy laundry days. Shoulder pads button in, and the shoulders themselves unbutton and lie flat upon the ironing board.

The old and the new have been combined to form this attention-grabbing Fashion Frock. The smart functional design is new. And the fabric, loomed in Mexico, abounds with Old World charm.

QUOTES OF THE WEEK

"Let me go. I'm an extinct volcano." — Virginia-born Lady Astor, arriving in U. S., to reporters.

"You'll have sled-runners for feet." — Dr. E. C. Elkins, Rochester, Minn., warning bobby-soxers against wearing moccasins.

"The price and business situation has become almost chaotic." — Rep. Duffett, Neb., demanding examination of OPA policies.

"The proposal that profits and prices should be considered in wage disputes strikes at the heart of the competitive enterprise system which made our country great." — Robert M. Gaylord, Rockford, Ill., businessman.

"I slept in it en route. Very comfortable." — E. T. Sarnan, Bainbridge, Ind., who drove to Florida in a hearse.

EXPERIENCED

BERNARD J. JURON

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR

PROBATE JUDGE

(Excerpt from Waukegan News-Sun—January 10, 1946.)
Another race for Lake County office in this year's election began shaping up... with announcements today for Probate Judge by Bernard J. Juron... Juron, also a past president of the county bar, has practiced law 20 years, recently in Waukegan alone, although he formerly practiced in Chicago and for many years maintained offices in both Waukegan and Chicago. He moved almost 20 years ago to Round Lake, where he and Mrs. Juron and their 8-year-old son still live.

While he has had an extensive probate practice, he probably has become best known for his work representing cities and villages as municipal attorney.

He is former city attorney of Highwood, Winthrop Harbor village attorney, Round Lake village attorney, Lake Villa village attorney, Fox Lake village attorney and Wauconda fire district attorney.

He attracted wide attention for his work while city attorney of Highwood in the city's successful fight to close a tavern within 100 feet of a church.

Juron also served 12 years as a member of the Lake County Republican central committee, and 12 years as Avon Township justice of the peace. He now is vice president of the new Lake County School Survey Committee, a non-political education post.

He was first president of the Grayslake Lions Club and is retiring president of the Lake County Shrine Club. He also holds memberships in the Waukegan Elks lodge and numerous other civic and fraternal organizations.

Library News

Among the many new books published recently, three novels, on widely different subjects, are outstanding. "The River Road," another of Frances Parkinson Keyes' sagas of family life, tells about the d'Alvory family and the gracious life on a Louisiana sugar plantation. Mrs. Keyes creates characters who live in the memory, and the love stories of Gervais and Merry, Fabian and Cressida, and Vail and Sue, d'Alvorys all, will not be quickly forgotten.

For ages, story tellers have told the story of David, the shepherd boy who became King of Israel. Gladys Schmitt tells it again in the novel, "David the King," a portrait so vivid and forceful that biblical times live again and David's sorrows and victories, his desires and final triumph are very real.

"The Marriage of Josephine," by Marjorie Coryn, is an absorbing story of the earth-shaking days of the French Revolution. As the story opens, Josephine de Beauharnais, the beautiful, ambitious woman who became Napoleon's adored and scornful empress, waits in prison for the guillotine to claim her as a victim. Because of her fascination for the opposite sex, the Terror passes her by and her upward path is made smooth, though far from eventful.

Injured Youth Lies on Cliff for 27 Hours

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.—Charles Maxey, 13-year-old Boy Scout, was recovering from exposure received while he lay on a cliff ledge for 27 hours with a broken ankle.

The boy slipped off a ledge while hiking with other Scouts, and was not rescued until yesterday. His father, who was summoned by other boys who could not move the injured boy over the rugged cliffs, stood vigil all night beside his son until help arrived.

The young Scout was lowered from the 100-foot cliff by ropes and a wire basket.

Bodies of 109 American

Airmen Found in Germany

HEREFORD, GERMANY.—The bodies of 109 American airmen, at least 35 of whom are believed to have been murdered, have been exhumed at the Baltic port of Luebeck, the head of the United States war crimes investigation section in the British zone said.

The airmen had bailed out of damaged planes, made forced landings or were shot down in raids on Kiel. A senior officer said it was a trick of the Germans to bury murdered airmen in their own cemeteries and fake the grave records.

NEW FIBERS

Shortage of silk after Pearl Harbor spurred chemists to greater research on nylon, whose durability, as well as adaptability for many uses, was proved during the war. Among newer contenders for the textile throne are ramie, a grass fiber, and aralac, made from milk curds.

Fate Catches EscapedFelon After 13 Years

CHICAGO. — In a cell at police headquarters, Walter Rich, 38, of 10945 Michigan avenue, recently andly contemplated the trick of fate that exposed him as a fugitive convict 13 years after he escaped from a prison honor camp at Sandusky, Ohio.

In 1931 Rich, then known as Lester Wallace, stole a calf and sold it for $27. He was sentenced to 1 to 15 years at the camp. A year later he escaped, made his way to Chicago, got a job in the Pullman company shops, courted and married a girl named Anne.

For 13 years he lived an exemplary life and he succeeded in concealing his past. Then Sgt. Tim O'Connell received a letter informing him that Rich was a convict. Rich waived extradition and will be taken back to the prison camp. His wife said she would move there and wait for him to be freed.

Crystals

There are 32 crystal classes and these are grouped into the following six systems, according to the arrangement of their axes: isometric, tetragonal, hexagonal, orthorhombic, monoclinic and triclinic.

Efficient Cleaner

Keeping the dustbag of the vacuum cleaner emptied after each use is vital in increasing the efficiency of the machine. Failure to do this destroys the force of suction which does the work!

Institutional Employees

About four-fifths of the state governments pay a basic cash salary plus maintenance for institutional employees; the practice in cities and counties is divided equally between giving employees full or partial maintenance in addition to a cash wage, or giving a gross salary and deducting charges for items taken.

Army Companies

The letter "J" has never been used to designate a company in the regular army. It is believed the letter was omitted to avoid confusion since in 1816 when the system was established the letters "I" and "J" were frequently written exactly alike. For the same reason there is no "J" street in Washington, D. C.

IMPORTANT

Our hearing at Chicago before the Interstate Commerce commission is for the purpose of operating a bus service between Chicago, via Antioch, to Waukegan, Wis., Interstate only.

No passenger will be carried from Antioch to Chicago, but passengers will be carried north of Antioch, and to all points beyond Chicago.

We will offer you a nation-wide bus service, with local service to the north of Antioch only. If you are interested in appearing as a witness for the benefit of your community, at our hearing, at our expense, be at Reeves Drug store at 7:45 a. m., Feb. 15.

4,000 Lives Lost in Tidal Wave in India

LONDON. — A Reuters dispatch from Karachi, India, said recently 4,000 persons were believed to have been killed and 40,000 made homeless by the tidal wave which struck the coastal belt in the Karachi-Bombay area. Relief workers returned from the scene said the tidal wave washed away seven villages.

Jap Scientists Made Death Ray

Nightmare Weapon Drove One Expert Insane.

TOKYO. — A ray with which the Japs hoped to bring down American B-29 bombers can be made fatal, and already has driven one scientist insane, Dr. Hidetatsu Yagi, chief of the Jap board of technology, said.

The scientist said he felt feverish heat in his legs and mouth while testing the ray, which was developed at the Shibaura company plant in Tokyo. General Electric company and Radio Corp. of America own 50 per cent of the stock of the Jap firm, Yagi added.

The ray actually is a transmitter which gives off waves on the principle of the diathermy machine, Yagi explained. As the waves are absorbed by the fat and bone of the human body, a heat is created which destroys the tissue.

Yagi said waves beamed in the highest frequencies set up an oscillation extremely destructive to the brain tissue, while waves of lower frequency destroy chest tissue.

The transmitter halts the action of engines, he said. Waves several meters in length applied to a magneto give added current, causing a continuous spark instead of the intermittent explosions needed to keep the engine humming.

The Japs hoped to develop a transmitter powerful enough to stop American planes and knock them from the sky.

But this nightmare of disintegration can never compete with the atomic bomb or even a 75-mm. howitzer. The flaw is in the fact that a metal plate will shield either an engine or a human. The wave dissipates itself in the shield.

Work Is Resumed on Big Telescope Mirror

PASADENA, CALIF.—Work went forward on the 200-inch Mount Palomar telescope mirror—the world's largest—which had not been touched since 1942.

The $6,000,000 telescope will be completed and installed in Palomar Observatory in San Diego county within 18 months, Dr. John A. Anderson, supervisor of the project since 1929, said.

Since work on the huge reflector was started in 1936, some 4½ tons of glass have been removed in grinding its face into a concave form. It now weighs 15 tons.

Dr. Anderson said the work resumed at the California Institute of Technology optical shop would continue changing the face to a form that will virtually assure "vision" in galaxies more than one billion light years away, more than twice the range of any instrument now in use.

Butter Casserole
To keep food from sticking to the sides of the casserole butter the inside before putting the food in to bake. The contents will not bake to the side of the dish as when not buttered, nor will it be so difficult to clean afterward.

Fig Preserves
Open up jar of fig preserves, pour into double boiler and heat until boiling hot. Place in hot No. 2 Re-enamelled cans. Seal immediately, place in boiling water bath 10 minutes. Cool quickly in cold running water. Dry carefully and label.

Remove Stains
Do not press a garment that is stained. This makes the stain a permanent one and it cannot be removed without professional help. The spots should be removed before pressing.

Dormant Pruning
On brambles the first step in dormant pruning to remove all dead canes, if they were not removed after fruiting in late summer, and to cut out weak and short canes. Cuts should be made near the ground.

Reduces Hatchability
